

Andrew Meyerson

Managing Director, Locust Walk LLC

Andy is a Managing Director at Locust Walk, a global investment bank focused on innovative life science companies. At Locust Walk, Andy works on buy-side, sell-side, capital markets, IPO advisory and strategy consulting engagements while also mentoring team members through various career stages. Prior to Locust Walk, Andy practiced as a lawyer across all areas of general corporate and securities law and has represented life sciences companies in all stages of their life cycles in addition to his experience in healthcare investment banking.